Flexible Involvement: One of The Giving Circle's founding principles is flexibility – we all have incredible demands on our time and financial resources, and we want a circle that makes philanthropy doable for every woman. In The Giving Circle, we believe all levels of involvement are valuable and important. Joining a Committee or our new Volunteers-on-Call Network is not a requirement, but if it interests you we will provide you with more information.

Please send me more information about opportunities to be involved in the operations of The Giving Circle.

We will not share your personal information with any other entity or business.
